AMONG THE DAISIES

By E. L.

Written Exclusively For This Paper

"And so, Nellie, you have made up your mind to go to the big city?" Nellie swung her wide-brimmed hat to and fro ere she replied:

"Yes, Ned. I want to be independent to earn money for myself, and now that Aunt Maria has this friend of hers coming, it's a good chance for me to get away."

Ned, big and burly, with his shirt open at his collar-like throat, a very son of the soil, could not forbear a slight smile as he looked down at the five feet of independence before him, who was about to go out and make her mark in the world.

Nellie was an orphan who had been brought up by her aunt, but for some time now her soul had chafed against the restraint of her quiet country existence. "She was twenty-one and she wanted to go to the city."

And so, with a gay smile on her lips, standing amongst the daisies in the sunlit field that beautiful June afternoon, Nellie said "good-bye" to Ned who had loved her all her life. Ned was a prosperous young farmer, but he seemed very prone to Nellie who had all sorts of visions of being a clever business woman and to whom the life of a farmer's wife did not in the least appeal. And Ned, whose heart was aching, said no word.

The weeks in the city passed slowly. The little room for which Nellie thought she had to pay a small fortune was hot and stuffy and she could not help remembering the clean white cottage she had left where the rambling roses climbed and yes, sometimes as she struggled with the mysterious dots and dashes in the Pitman system, the beautiful green fields white with daisies rose before her. But she was proud and said no word, and in the country they thought she was happy. They had no idea of how lonely a little country girl of twenty-one can be in a large city.

And then one day Nellie took sick and for weeks she lay at the point of death. But youth and a good constitution triumphed. Ned and Aunt Maria travelled up to the city to see the "little lass."

"Praps," ventured Aunt Maria hopefully, "she may be willin' to come home for a spell, eh Ned?"

"It shouldn't wonder," replied Ned, setting his lips in a firm line, "I shouldn't wonder."

And when Nellie saw Ned she knew that she was not cut out for a career, that she was just a little country blossom which would quickly fade if transplanted elsewhere, and that she could, after all be quite happy in a farmhouse.

"Oh," she said, as they were leaving the hospital, "where are you taking me, Ned?"

"We're taking you home, my girl." Ned's voice was gruff, but his heart was full and he could hardly suffer himself to look at that little pale face which had been so blooming that last day they had talked among the daisies.

"Yes, dearie," chirped Aunt Maria, "the city 'don't' 'pear to have agreed with ye, but if ye have a rest and pick up ye can come back next summer."

Next summer came and on a lovely June day Nellie and Ned again stood in the field of daisies.

Ned stooped and picked one of the white blossoms and brushed it against her soft cheek.

"Are you going to the city this year, Nellie?"

"Maybe!" replied Nellie mischievously, showing a provoking dimple as she smiled.

"And maybe not!" replied Ned masterfully, drawing her closer to him.

"Maybe not," he went on. "Instead I think you and I are going to be married and live in the big farmhouse down the lane. You were never meant for the big, hungry city, but just for a sweet country day."

As Nellie made no reply to this he presumed that Ned was right.

Nervous Headaches, Dizziness

They renew vitality, build up the strength, increase mental activity, give nerve and brain power, improve the appetite and make rich, red blood, thus banishing nervousness, headaches, sleeplessness, nervous prostration, heart palpitation, shortness of breath, faint and dizzy spells, smothering feeling, anaemia, general debility and all troubles arising from a run down system.

War With Wild Beasts

Many People In India Are Killed Every Year.

The struggle between human beings and wild animals in India seems to be constant. Last year fifty-five persons were killed by elephants, five by hyenas, 109 by bears, 350 by leopards, 853 by tigers, and 688 by lions and other animals. Poisonous snakes claimed no fewer than 22,478 victims. More than 19,000 wild beasts of various kinds were destroyed and 91,000 snakes were killed. Small animals that are ordinarily the prey of wild beasts, and this probably accounts for the attention that tigers and other large animals have given to their human neighbors.

Rub it in for Lane Back.—A brisk rubbing with Dr. Thomas' Eucalyptic Oil will relieve lame back. The skin will immediately absorb the oil and it will penetrate the tissues and bring speedy relief. Try it and be convinced. As the liniment sinks in the pain comes out and there are ample grounds for saying that it is an excellent relief.

Increased Use Of Drugs

Drug Addicts Reported on Increase in Vancouver District.

Indicating an increase in the use of drugs in Vancouver during the last few years, the annual report of the city health department shows that the number of examinations of drugs during 1920 was nearly double that of the year previous and more than five times as many as in 1917.

During 1920 the health department analyzed for the police department 2,148 samples of opium, morphine, heroin and cocaine. During 1919, the number was but 1,133. In 1918, 512, and in 1917, 429.

GOTTER.

Copyright, 1921, by Rea Proctor McGee.

In speaking of the diseases and infections of the body that arise from the teeth, it is not intended to give the impression that the teeth are, invariably, the cause of infection. But these cases are explained in order to show the results of neglecting mouths.

Until recent years we had not realized the danger of neglecting the mouth and teeth as that the results were so seriously interfered with, by the inability to chew, and because appearance and distinct speech were ruined, and because pain of many kinds and of great intensity was a very frequent occurrence, and because broken roots and open cavities retained decomposing food and mucus, with a resulting bad breath. These were a few of the things that caused the more cultured people to have their mouths put in order.

The researches of the great institutions that are devoted to the study of disease have shown us that the results of neglected mouths are far more serious than we had at first believed, and there is just one way to avoid these serious results. That is to take care of the mouth in time.

Begin with the children, and if the child is trained to have its mouth in good condition and to know the comforts that follow a good-mouth condition, this child will make very strenuous efforts, in later life, to have those same physical comforts.

One of the most embarrassing as well as serious of the widespread cases of this country—a condition that is becoming more and more frequent—is gotter, which is the enlargement of the thyroid gland which lies in the interior portion of the neck.

A swelling of this gland produces a very unsightly enlargement of the neck, many times causing a series of what is known as thyroidism. Thyroidism is attended with sleeplessness (or insomnia), nervousness and excitability, twitching and rapid heart action.

It was found that in large numbers of gotters the infection in the thyroid gland was a certain bacteria that is found in abscess sacs at the ends of roots of diseased teeth in the mouth of the patient; and in many instances the treatment of the teeth, or the extraction of the teeth and curtailing the sockets, relieved the gotter entirely.

It is therefore advisable to have a careful X-ray examination of the mouth in all gotter cases.

Superstition of Sailors.

Old sailors believe ill-luck will surely follow if anyone even accidentally counts the number of persons on board ship.

It Will Prevent Ulcerated Throat.—At the first signs of sore throat, which presages ulceration and inflammation, take a spoonful of Dr. Thomas' Eucalyptic Oil. Add a little sugar to it to make it palatable. It will allay the irritation and prevent the ulceration and swelling that are so painful. Those who were periodically subject to quinsy have thus made themselves immune to attack.

CASTORIA

The False and the True.

Advertising by the use of large space, the expenditure of huge sums of money have placed on the market, have put in your home, perhaps, many articles that today have been discarded, as you will readily admit.

Do you recall anything that has more modestly appealed to the public than Fletcher's Castoria; modest in all its claims, pleading at all times—and truthfully—for our babies?

The big splash, the misleading claims may win for a time, but the honest truth-telling advertiser is like the old story of the tortoise that beat the hare.

Mother everywhere, and their daughters, now mothers, speak frankly, glowing, enthusiastically in praise of Fletcher's Castoria. Speak of it lovingly as a friend that has brought comfort, cheer and smiles to their little one.

To them: to these true mothers no argument can induce them to set aside their bottle of Castoria, their old friend, that they might try even another and unknown remedy for babies. Then, would YOU think of going to YOUR OWN medicine chest to find relief for Baby's troubles? Can you not separate the false from the true?

Watering Farm Horses

Working Horses Are Frequently Neglected, Which Leads to Serious Results.

Water Moore, a well-known writer, says: "It is a common thing for farmers to work their horses in the hay field from morning to night, watering them only at noon. This is done even on days of excessive heat. The driver usually has two or more refreshing dips in the middle of the morning and again in the afternoon, but the horses, who are equally as thirsty, go without. This want of water is not only excessive, but it causes the horses to drink to excess at noon, and again at night, which often results in colic, and even causes them to produce a distended stomach of what farmers call a 'hay belly.' Farmers who would treat their horses humanely should take water into the field for them in hot weather."—Boston Work Horse Relief Association.

THE FATEFUL YEARS FOR EVERY WOMAN

How to Overcome Troubles That Afflict Women Only.

So far as a woman's health is concerned, probably the most fateful years in her life are those between 45 and 50. Many women during this period under depressing conditions, through overstrain in household or a neglected condition of the blood, and so they suffer heavily.

Amongst the commonest symptoms at this time are headaches, pains in the back and sides, fever, flushing, palpitation, dizziness and depression. It is well to know that these variations of health, can be relieved by home treatment. What women stand in need of all their life, but never more so than in middle age, is a good red blood. As a tonic for the blood and nerves, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are always useful. But especially will they help women at this time. Among those who have found benefit from Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is Mrs. J. A. McDougall Rhodena, N.S.W., who says: "I was greatly troubled with nervousness, palpitation of the heart, dizziness, and a generally run down condition. It was only with difficulty that I could do my work, and I had been taking medicine for some time I did not improve. Finally a friend advised Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I got a supply and began taking them. The result more than met my expectations. I am feeling better than I have done for years, sleep well, eat well, and do my household work much more easily. I am sure that I certainly did what you claim for them."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all dealers in medicine, or you can get them by mail at 50c a box or six for $2.50. Write to Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Poland Claims to Have the Oldest Mail in Central Europe.

Poland claims the oldest spinster in Central Europe. She is Miss Anna Dobek, living in Chocholow, who recently celebrated her 123rd birthday. Miss Dobek is still quite active, physically and mentally, and does some household work each day. "She also has a sense of humor, and to her acquaintances, attributes her longevity to the fact that she has never been bothered by having a man about the house. Miss Dobek doesn't like cats, either."

Every careful and observant mother knows when her child suffers from worms. She also knows that if some remedy be not speedily applied much harm will result to the infant. Lignite Coal in Western Canada.

The coal produced at the Lignite Utilization plant, at Bismarck, Sask., will be placed on the Winnipeg market at $11.50 per ton, according to a statement made recently in the Manitoba Legislative by Hon. The Dumb Animals

Movement For Greater Kindness to Dumb Animals Is Growing.

The movement to set aside special days for greater kindness to dumb animals is growing. It is a movement that appeals to reason. Go back into childhood and almost anyone recalls a certain pet dog that was as loyal a friend as one could have. What child did not worship the intelligent old horse in grandfather's barn? Who did not have difficulty keeping back the tears when mother read aloud the stories of "Beautiful Joe" and "Black Beauty?" Much of the joy of youth is inseparably bound up with dumb animals. Children instinctively are affectionate and kind to dumb brutes. That is the normal attitude toward them. As we grow older, however, we grow thoughtless and many are unnecessarily cruel to dogs and cats and the beasts of the field and the fowl of the air.

We owe a mighty debt to dumb animals.—Winnipeg Tribune.

Manitoba's Population.

The total population in Manitoba in 1920 was 541,466, according to the annual report of the vital statistics branch of the Provincial Government. The death rate for the province last year was 12.2 per thousand, a reduction of 2 per thousand over 1919. Births in 1920 totalled 18,536 as against 15,019 during the previous year.

Eyelet Embroidery Is A Favored Trimming

By Marie Belmont.

One of the most interesting developments in the adorning of the new spring frocks and suits is the lavish use of eyelet embroidery. It is exceedingly effective, as it permits the use of contrasting fabrics which add much to the beauty of the models. This dress, cut from soft folds of salmon chiffon is partly veiled by ecru batiste. The latter richly embroidered with eyelets, is disposed in panels on the front of the dress. The lower part of the corsage is covered with the batiste which is cut in pointed style. A huge swath of chiffon is bowed at the waistline, and the long ends become panels that are much longer than the front of the gown.

Prominent Western Man Praises Tanlac

G. W. Logan, Peabody, Kansas

"Tanlac has completely restored my health and I feel finer than in years." was the straightforward statement made recently by Mr. George W. Logan, of Peabody, Kansas, one of the most prominent stock-dealers in the Middle West.

"It has not only made a new man of me but I have actually gained thirty-five pounds in weight and feel as well as I ever did in my life. I am telling all of my friends about Tanlac but they can see for themselves what it has done in my case. When I began taking Tanlac I was in an awful run-down condition. I was away off in weight, felt weak and nervous all of the time and couldn't take any interest in my work or anything else. My main trouble was indigestion. Nothing seemed to agree with me. At times I would have dizzy spells and at other times my back would ache so bad that I could hardly get up and down in my chair. This is just the condition I was in when I started to take this medicine. It took just six bottles to make a well man of me. I now have a fine appetite, everything tastes good and my digestion is perfect."

"My wife was also troubled with indigestion at times and it relieved her the same way. You may publish my statement wherever you like and if anyone doubts it, just tell them to see me."

Hands Across the Sea

Forget Minor Differences of View and of Prejudices.

In the hands of the American and of the English people lie the security and well-being of the human race. If Great Britain and America, whose ideals we firmly believe to be fundamentally in accord, can, in the next few years, be brought into closer appreciation, each as to the other's difficulties and problems; if they can be persuaded to forget minor differences of view and of prejudices; if they can grow to a common understanding of their mutual obligations and responsibilities to the world, they can become the leaders along the path of world progress.—New York Post.

Taxed To Death

The following is copied from a recent issue of the High River Times, and is very well put:

"Have you ever figured out the almost innumerable taxes one must pay these days. One of our business men, discussing the subject, remarked that he had to make out so many tax forms that it took all his surplus cash to meet the assessments. To begin with, there was the Workmen's Compensation tax and the medical aid tax in connection; the automobile tax; the amusement tax; sales tax; poll tax; dog tax; income tax; business tax; bank cheque, draft and overdraft tax; and last but not least the town and school tax. The only way to escape it is to die, and even then one was obliged to pay a death tax before being ushered through the pearly gates.

The funeral of the late Charles Zimick took place on Thursday afternoon last and was one of the largest in the history of this district. The procession from Frank, headed by the Bohemian band, was nearly a mile long. Services at the home and graveside, conducted by the Rev. W. T. Young, were very impressive. The sympathy of the whole district is extended to the bereaved relatives.

THE PRINTER AND HIS PAPER

"He is only a printer." We overheard such a remark recently on the street from a member of the aristocracy. We did not reply in kind, but we brought a plenty.

Who was the Earl of Stanhope? He was only a printer. The former Emperor of China was a printer, as was the U.S. president-elect. What were C. P. Morris, N. P. Willis, James Gales, Charles Richardson, James Parker, Horace Greeley, Chas. Dickens, James Buchanan, Simon Canby and Schuyler Colfax? Printers all, and practical ones. Mark Twain, Amos Cummings, Bret Hart, and Opie Reed were plain, practical printers, as were Artemus Ward, Petroleum V. Nasby and Sut Lovingood. The leader of science and philosophy in his day, Benjamin Franklin, made the boast that he was a journeyman printer.

In fact thousands of the most brilliant minds in this country are to be found toiling in the publishing houses of large cities and towns. We have found it a hard life, for it is not everyone that can be a printer—brains are absolutely necessary.

An aggressive country weekly can make a community, in lack of it break a community. It can lift a struggling neighborhood up to prosperity. It is the tie that binds the home, church and school together. This is the opinion of A. W. Hopkins, of the Department of Journalism of Wisconsin College of Agriculture.

Once established, the country weekly can be of great assistance in making a live community, he says. "Backing all the valuable and worthwhile social or business enterprises is a regular part of its duties. Many a success has been built because of the help given by the local newspaper.

Familiarity with its readers is the foundation for the success of the country weekly," says Mr. Hopkins. "Printing a record of all births, marriages, deaths and the various fortunes of its readers will help make a place for itself in the homes of its readers.

"Since farming plays a basic part of the prosperity of nearly every rural community, the news of the farm should have an important place in the paper. An increasing number of weekly papers are solving the problem of printing agricultural information and news," he says.

When people want to interest distant friends in their home towns they send away copies of the local paper. When anyone wants to know what kind of a place a distant town is he sends for a copy of the local paper.

When the merchants are full of courage and advertise freely, an impression is created among the many people living outside of the town who see the paper that this is a wide-awake little business town. If at times the merchants let up a little on their advertising the town does not look so good to outsiders.

In supporting the home paper, therefore, you not only get the local and business news, but you help on all civic causes, you are enabled to participate to the fullest extent of its life, and you help the town exert influence and create a favorable impression outside.

Bellevue defeated Hillcrest in their first league game of football on the local grounds on Monday evening. The score was 2 to 1 and the game was witnessed by a large crowd of rooters, each bearing tags, showing that they were supporting sport with something more than hot air.

Hell could never be too hot for the individual who a few nights ago poisoned a pet house dog and put the owner's automobile out of commission. The police have a fair idea of the culprit and some interesting developments may transpire.

The first football game of The Pale League series was played at Coleman on Saturday evening in the teeth of a snow and mud storm, resulting in a win for Coleman by a score of two to one. Bellevue plays at Blaimore the coming Saturday, kick-off about 5:30 p.m.

The Blaimore Taxis Rangers defeated the Coleman high school boys to the tune of twelve to one in the first game of the basketball league on Friday evening last.

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst will lecture at Lethbridge on the night of May the 11th.

Rev. J. N. Wilkinson, of the Pincher Creek United church, has been asked by the church board to reconsider his resignation of the pastorate and remain another year.

Mrs. Bird arrived from Fernie on Saturday night last to join her husband, who is manager of the new branch of the Home Bank of Canada.

W. J. Donahue, representing the Heintzman Piano Co., was in town last week end.

The marriage of John Harold Jackson and Miss Mary Miller Dubbie, both of Pincher Creek took place at Lethbridge on April 27th. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson are two of Pincher Creek's most popular young people and best wishes and congratulations are heartily extended. They are spending their honeymoon at the coast.

Mrs. Donald McDonald, mother of J. W. McDonald, K. C., of Macleod, died at Toronto recently at the ripe old age of seventy-three. Death resulted from complications following an accidental fall, by which Mrs. McDonald suffered internal injuries to which she succumbed within a few days.

A band of picture-enlargers took the town by storm on Tuesday evening and attempted to canvas for business without arming themselves with the necessary town license. Their operations were stopped on Wednesday morning, however, and the license fees were exacted from them. Like many fake outfits that are duping the easily-landed people of this district, the men claimed to be in possession of Dominion charters and not liable to municipal taxes. As a matter of fact, any such outfit should not be permitted to operate until their reliability is established.

The Senior Girls' Mission Band

The Senior Girls' Mission Band will meet as usual on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Every member is requested to be present, as this is an important meeting. We want to know how many girls wish to go to camp for one week in July. The camp outing is arranged by the Religious Education Council of Alberta and a splendid programme is arranged. Any mother wishing information regarding the outing may see Miss Fulton, Miss Pinkney or Mrs. Henderson.

Miss Evelyn Story, secretary for the Girls' Work Board of Alberta gave an interesting talk to the Senior Girls' Mission Band on Monday evening.

A meeting of the Camp Committee for Girls was held at the home of Rev. R. E. Newman, Hillcrest, on Tuesday afternoon, to arrange plans for the camp at Lee Lake (near Burnis) for the girls of the Pass. Those present were Mrs. (Rev.) Newman, Hillcrest; Mrs. (Rev.) Allan, Coleman; Mrs. W. A. Henderson, Blaimore; Mrs. Williams, Bellevue; and Miss Story, secretary of girls' work board for Alberta. Mrs. Peters was unavoidably absent.

The Junior Mission Band will meet on Saturday at 3 p.m. All the girls and boys of the Sunday school are invited. "Canada" is the mission topic. Gave a forthright hour. — Irene Kalfoury, press secretary.

The Shortage of Homes

While not prepared to fully accept the statement recently credited to Canada's only woman cabinet minister that this Dominion stands in need of one million new houses, which would mean that at the present time something more than one-half our estimated population of nine millions of people lack reasonably comfortable accommodation—most Canadians will readily agree that the provision of additional housing is one of the pressing needs of this country. Canada, however, is not peculiar in this respect; it is a condition which prevails in practically all countries, and constitutes a problem that is engaging the attention of people in Great Britain, the United States and other countries.

Dealing with the housing problem in Great Britain a short time ago, Lloyd George uttered one of those epigrams for which he is noted, and compressed in a few words a truth which is well attested, in fact all citizens, should recognize. He said: "You cannot maintain an A-1 empire with a C-3 population. You cannot bring up healthy people in unhealthy homes."

A lack of adequate and proper housing accommodation means the resorting to makeshifts, to overcrowding of people and whole families in buildings where the necessary conditions of sanitation required to maintain health cannot be observed. It means the use for purposes of habitation of buildings which should not be devoted to such purposes; it means a loss of that privacy in family life, the loss of which so frequently leads to a laxity in morals; it means, in fact, the physical and moral deterioration of the people and a consequent weakening of the nation. The effect on babies and young children, who are the hope and citizenship of the future, is positively dangerous and alarming.

Socially and economically the result of inadequate and bad housing is just as serious as it is physically. When people are compelled to live cluttered together in a state of congestion, or in habitations which are not fit for human beings, unrest and general dissatisfaction with the prevailing order of things is engendered, and, as inevitably Governments and the present system of industrial life and society are blamed, rabid socialist and even revolutionary ideas and doctrines are accepted and spread, discontent grows, and the very life of the State is threatened, while the physical standard of the people is lowered.

Revolutionary ideas and extreme socialist doctrines seldom find much acceptance among people who are the owners of the dwellings in which they live. Ownership of a bit of land, and a house which becomes a permanent home, is the best possible guarantee of contentment within and stability for a nation. In Canada it is frankly recognized that the large percentage of the population engaged in agriculture and living on land of their own, and the fact that the outstanding reason why this Dominion has escaped to a greater extent than perhaps any other country the perils which have threatened the world following the upheaval of the Great War.

If not a million new houses, at least tens of thousands are required in Canada this year. Yet the prospect of obtaining them is remote unless some action is taken to meet the need. It cannot be met under existing conditions if left to the ordinary individual effort, initiative, enterprise and available financial resources of individuals. Governments and municipalities have made some provision, but it is inadequate and haphazard in contrast with the importance and seriousness of the problem. Something further is required, and it would seem as if that "something" should be provided, not in the way of paternal Government assistance, but in the direction of encouragement of building operations all over the Dominion.

How is this to be done? In the humble opinion of the writer of this article, by Governmental action bringing about a change in the present costs of construction. Governments in Canada, Federal and Provincial, own and control millions of acres of forest and timber lands. They have it in their power to reduce the cost of lumber to the people of Canada by developing those resources on a large scale and in a scientific manner. By so doing they can provide employment for thousands of laborers and artisans, develop the natural resources of the country, and add immeasurably to the wealth and prosperity of the Dominion.

The cost of transporting needed commodities from one part of the Dominion to another has risen enormously in recent years because of increased freight rates. Admitting that increased rates were necessary to enable the railways to pay their way, it would nevertheless appear to be the part of statesmanship to reduce those rates on lumber and other building materials in order to build up the country.

Cheaper lumber in the first instance, and a lower cost for transporting it to those who want it and will gladly use it if they can obtain it at a reasonable price within their means, would operate as an immediate and tremendous factor in bringing about renewed building activity. This would provide an enormous volume of employment, and artisans with steady work and wages would soon begin to build homes for themselves. It would mean greater prosperity, less unrest, better health. Under present conditions even those who are unable to afford to build defer doing so because of a belief that sooner or later, costs of construction will fall, and they would then be faced with a heavy depreciation in the value of properties constructed at present high prices. They, therefore, continue to occupy houses, paying unduly high rents for the time being, which houses would otherwise be made available at a more moderate figure for those who are not in a position to build for themselves.

Stefansson Gets Medal For Services Rendered to Canada.

Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the Canadian explorer, has been awarded the Founders' medals of the Royal Geographical Society, London. Mr. Stefansson is at present on a lecture tour in the United States, and he received a despatch at El Paso, Texas, from the secretary of the society, Arthur Parr Hicks, advising that His Majesty the King has approved of the award for his distinguished services to Canada in the exploration of the Arctic Sea. The Founders' medal was established by King William IV, in 1831 to encourage geographical science and discovery.

Leg that Won't Heal

"Ever since a boy of fourteen," writes Mr. John Redmond, of West Yarmouth, Que., "I had trouble with a bad leg. I used many remedies. Though some appeared to heal the ulcer for a while, it always broke out again as bad as ever. This last time I suffered continuously for nine years, and the old remedies had absolutely no effect."

The limb was in an awful state when someone advised him to get Zam-Buk right away. I had only used this herbal healer a few days when I began to see great improvement. I continued the treatment, for even Zam-Buk needed time to have complete effect. However, I am glad to tell you that it was only by the aid of Zam-Buk that the leg was eventually thoroughly healed. Never again of the ulcer again."

CHILDHOOD INDIGESTION

Nothing is more common in childhood than indigestion. Nothing is more dangerous to proper growth, more menacing to the constitution, and more likely to pave the way to dangerous disease. Fully nine-tenths of all the minor life of childhood have their root in indigestion. There is no medicine for the little ones to equal Baby's Own Tablets in relieving this trouble. They have proved of benefit to thousands of homes. Concerning them Mrs. Jos. Lunette, Immigrant, Concordia, Que., writes: "My baby was a great sufferer from indigestion, but the Tablets soon set her right and now I would not be without them." Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Federal Research Bureau

Bill Providing For This Will Be Fathered by Sir George E. Foster

Provision for steps to be taken toward the equipment of a federal research institute on somewhat the same basis as the bureau of standards at Washington, will be made a bill to be introduced in the house by George Foster, minister of trade and commerce.

The provision of a research bureau at or near Ottawa has been urged upon the government during the last two sessions by the honorary and advisory council for industrial and scientific research. It has been urged by the council and by the members of the special parliamentary committee on scientific research that the establishment of a research bureau there was absolutely necessary if Canada was to take her proper place in industrial and scientific development.

The proposals which were laid before the government called for an expenditure of about a half a million dollars for buildings and equipments, but it is understood that this estimate has been somewhat modified and that the initial outlay would not be more than $200,000 for the first year.

DRINKS FOR THE CHILD

By LORETTO C. LYNCH
An Acknowledged Expert In All Matters Pertaining to Household Management.

A mother writes to say it is all very well for doctors to tell mothers that their children must have a drop of tea or coffee, but that children get tired of cocoa.

For a change, give them Cambric tea. Half a cup of milk is mixed with half a cup of boiling water. A little sugar is added and the youngster sips his tea about with the grown folks who are perhaps indulging in Orange Pekoe.

The cereal coffee on the market—and there are several varieties—are good for children and most acceptable to the palate if properly made. Read the directions carefully and then proceed to follow them accurately.

Sometimes a child will take hot malted milk when it is flavored with cereal coffee when it may refuse it if unflavored. Malted milk may be mixed with either hot water or scalded milk. It is good cold as well as hot. Cold malted milk is often accepted by a child if a generous spoonful of flavored ice cream is well mixed into it.

Hot lemonade for the last meal at evening may be very properly given. It is so much better than tea or coffee. Squeeze half a lemon into a strainer set over a saucer. Add one level tablespoon of sugar and one-half a measuring cup of water. Boil for one minute. Pour into a mug. Add a little cold water to cool for drinking.

Grape juice, either hot or cold, is suitable for children. A little grape juice added to a lemonade gives it a different turn.

Orangeade, also, is good for children.

Of course, children should be taught to drink several glasses of water a day. Make the water hot if they must, but give the child water.

If you live where fresh pineapples are fairly cheap, you can enjoy a drink that will promote good digestion. Prepare a pineapple and crush the fruit in a bowl. Sprinkle lightly with sugar and let stand. Collect the juice and drink it with hot or cold water. The drink may be made from canned pineapple, but it is not so valuable to digestion as when made from the fresh fruit.

Forage Crop Competitions.

Carrying out one of the recommendations of the Better Farming Commission, a series of co-operative experiments will be undertaken in Saskatchewan in the growing of crops for forage. These experiments will take the form of competitions.

ADVICE FOR BACKACHE

World's Highest Mountains

Andes Have Greatest Number of High Peaks.

The Himalayas contain the tallest mountains in the world, but it is in the Andes of South America that are to be found the greatest number of peaks over 20,000 feet in height. In Bolivia are the Cordilleras de la Paz, of which twelve peaks, altogether, tower more than four miles towards the sky. Farther north, in Ecuador, are twenty volcanoes, one cluster all covered with perpetual snow. The lowest is just on 16,000 feet, the highest, Mount Chimborazo, is 20,498. Three of these volcanoes are still active, and eleven out of the twenty have never yet been climbed. The highest of the South American Andes is supposed to be Aconcagua, 23,030 feet. But the Andes, between the Isthmus of Panama and Cape Horn, can show no fewer than 288 peaks, which are more than 10,000 feet in height, 138 over 18,000, seventy-nine over 19,000, and forty-two over 20,000 feet. The four highest all exceed 23,000 feet. The Andes possess another record, in the shape of the highest road in the world. This is the famous Araya Road, in Peru, which pierces the mountains by the Crooked Tunnel at a height of 15,531 feet. This is almost the same level as the topmost summit of Europe's highest mountain, Mont Blanc.

Russia is the only great gold producing country in Europe.

A Gruesome Paradise

Russia Dying Before the Eyes of a Helpless World.

After a little over three years of Soviet rule Russia lies dying before the eyes of a helpless world. What was to have been the triumph of Marxism. Socialism has become a disaster, which has involved in mental and physical suffering many millions of human beings, besides sweeping away all the foundations upon which their prosperity rested. When Lenin, Trotsky and Chicherin seized the reins of power towards the close of 1917 they proclaimed a Communist Government with a Constitutional Assembly, which has never assembled from that day to this—in which the last word as well as the first word would lie with "the workers." At last the great masses of Russia, whether living in the towns or engaged in various agricultural pursuits in the countryside, were to come into their own. What has been the sequel?—London Daily Telegraph.

Baulky Horses

What to Do and What Not to Do to Prevent and Overcome Trouble.

It is doubtful if any horse is a born baulker, that vice generally being acquired through mismanagement when young. It is no exaggeration to say that numerous even tempered horses have been absolutely spoiled by overloading and over-driving before the muscles of the shoulders are seasoned to the pressure of the collar. Young animals should never be expected to pull a load when first broken.

The task should be gradually increased as the horse becomes accustomed to work, and gains confidence as his shoulders harden. In all cases a man must be watchful, and see that his horse, especially if young, is not getting tired or showing signs of over-fatigue by breaking out suddenly into a heavy sweat. Before he stops of his own accord, pull him up with a sharp "whoa," lift the collar, and let his shoulders cool for a minute or two; do something to the harness while he gets his breath.

By doing this the animal goes freely again, and is not cowed. If the shoulders are over-heated and tender, and he is out of wind, violent means to make him go render him frightened, then obdurate, and thus a baulker is made.
